Do you want to change the world?

Statistics can be sobering.

Like the statistic that shows 7 out of 10 girls believe they don't measure up in some way. Or that a girl's self esteem peaks at age 9, and girls as young as 5 worry about their weight.

Those are the stats, but GEMS Girls' Clubs knows the facts.

The fact is: Girls are valuable, worthy, and strong. At GEMS we show girls the truth of God's Word—the truth of who He is and what He says about them. Because when girls know that God loves them and is for them, we know they can change the world.

It Starts Here

When you start a GEMS Club in your church, school, or Christian organization, you are saying, "Yes!" to helping girls discover their purpose and potential. The added benefit is you are also creating a supportive community for the women who volunteer to lead.

What others are saying:

"[With GEMS], the response from our girl has been far greater than any response I have had from them over the past three years. The change that has occurred in our girls has been nothing short of amazing—they are engaged, asking questions, getting clear answers, and giving their hearts to Jesus."

— Jasmine Labombard, GEMS Leader

"The impact our club has had in and through the girls is remarkable. So many God-orchestrated blessings have come from our decision. GEMS has positively impacted the school climate and has not gone unnoticed by staff."

— Laurie Postema, GEMS Leader
(hosts her club at a public school)

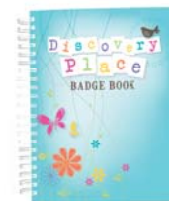

GEMS is committed to:

- ♥ Being easy to join—you can sign up and start any time.
- ♥ Creating materials that make biblical truth accessible to all girls—no matter their background or exposure to God and His Word.
- ♥ Designing straightforward lessons that require minimal preparation for volunteers.
- ♥ Remaining affordable; you can start a club for less than $9 per girl.
- ♥ Fun. Girls want to come back for more—and will bring their friends!

GEMS has options for girls in grades 1-8, but you can pick the levels you want to include in your club. All of the materials are flexible, and you can tailor the program to meet your needs.
